

WE NOMINATE

The 30 senior members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad — and the Squad's highly promising corps of 15 cadets, young men ranging in years from 16 to 20 — whose distinguished and largely unsung service has endowed Princeton with a sense of security in moments of individual and community crisis. For instance, over the past weekend, as hard-pressed municipalities struggled with a lashing major storm, four squad members were on 'round-the-clock duty in their North Harrison Street headquarters and, from the time snow started to fall until the roads were reasonably clear on Monday, handled a dozen calls, including several life-or-death missions.

Ever since the Squad was launched in 1939 as the Ambulance Unit of Princeton Engine Company No. 1 (Chestnut Street Firehouse) it has been "where the action is." Starting with a single vehicle, which in the early years was largely manned by residents of the Chestnut Street neighborhood, and now operating two Cadillac ambulances, two rescue boats and a "rescue truck for extracting people from any situation imaginable," this remarkable organization can restructure Princeton's modern history in terms of tragedies, near-tragedies, accidents, fires and those completely unanticipated events that require split-second reactions and highly skilled manpower capable of functioning under trying conditions.

Whether it is a laboratory explosion, a plane crash on Route 206, a drowning in the treacherous Delaware-and-Raritan Canal, or even a football game or July 4th fireworks display in Palmer Stadium, the Squad (volunteers all) is on hand and there is never a charge for services rendered. Entirely sustained by individual and corporate contributions, the unit's officers "run an extremely tight ship." Administrative expenses, frequently a bugaboo in non-profit enterprise, are held to an absolute minimum; the daily stress is on training, and more training; and the Squad's archives are jammed with letters expressing gratitude and respect for its promptness, ability and compassion.

The Squad's completely professional approach to training, and the maintenance of standards of performance comparable to the best in the country, are reflected in its rigorous cadet program, now in its fifth year and only open to men already holding advanced Red Cross first aid credentials. Lectures, demonstrations, courses and seminars, with senior members often re-capping materials covered at Columbia University and Mercer Hospital, are all part of the cadets' training regimen.

Linked by "hot lines" with municipal and State police desks, working in close cooperation with both East and West Windsor Townships, and a veteran dispatcher on duty 24 hours a day, the Squad continues to set new records year after year in coping with the needs of a mushrooming population. The past year produced a startling 16% increase in the number of calls handled by the Squad: a total of 1,328, or an average of 3.6 per day. Exclusive of any stand-by duty, or time for training, members in 1968 spent nearly 5,000 man-hours on the ambulances and covered 17,239 miles, including an ever-rising number of trips to hospitals in New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

For possessing, in the words of one member, "an intense and deep-rooted desire to do things right," for their dedication to the ideals and traditions of volunteer community service; for meriting the gratitude of the 1,000's they serve so quietly and so effectively; they are our nominees as

DIG THAT SNOW!
Got a Front-End Loader? "It was worse, the farther north you went," observed David Ludlum, Princeton's weather observer, as he set his compass for true south. "We only had seven to nine inches here in Princeton," he said, "and if you live in the eastern part of town (Mr. Ludlum lives on Riverside Drive in the remote Eastern Marches) you got more than you would have in the western section."

Compare those 7.9 inches to the 13.8 inches that fell almost exactly two years ago—February 6-7, 1967. That's February, with 24.3 inches, was the snowiest month since 1899.

And the future...? A nice storm moved in over California on Monday, was playing around in Las Vegas on Tuesday, due over the Texas Panhandle on Wednesday, in Kentucky this Thursday and off the coast of Atlantic City late this Friday.

Snow? Rain? Mr. Ludlum shakes his head, "could be either one," he predicts.

Shitting Sands. It was the

drifts that made the depth. A four-foot fence on the property of Princeton's Recreation Director, R. Donald Barr, on the Princeton-Hightstown Road was—you guessed it. Covered. One Princeton Township man had his driveway plowed twice on Sunday afternoon—by the time of the second plowing, you'd have thought no plow had ever touched the virgin snow.

Cherry Valley Road had 10-foot drifts (see photo, page 3), and Township plows were still working that road as late as Tuesday morning. Lawrence Township had trouble keeping its section of Mercer Road drift-free. Princeton Township kept pushing over its own segment of Mercer Road, trying to keep ahead of the wind.

"Guests over 40 miles an hour," nods Mr. Ludlum in agreement on that drift problem. "The wind started out in the south-east, then shifted to a north-east to north wind. And after the snow stopped, of course, we had winds of 30 m.p.h. for about 18 hours. That's unusual: normally winds blow after a storm for a much shorter period."

Hot, Really. Of course, it never got really cold, hardly below freezing. Householders shoveling a long sidewalk came inside as hot as after a gym workout.

And there was even rain. From 7:30 to 8 Sunday morning, it rained and Mr. Ludlum, who likes storms, was apprehensive.

"This storm formed over South Carolina Saturday as a secondary storm," he reports. "It's most unusual for a storm to develop so much strength so fast—we really didn't expect all this!"

Roll Up Those Sleeves. But the unexpectedness doesn't seem to have caught Princeton the way it did New York City. In the Township, the first men drifted in—pardon the metaphor—early Sunday morning to report to John Clausen, superintendent of rural parks and roads.

The men just kept right on working. At the end of the day, the ones who lived outside of town bedded down in the Township garage, or in a friend's Princeton home.

With a front-end loader, a big grader and a pair of giant International trucks, the Township had no major equipment shortage. But there was a shortage of men who know how to handle the big giants. It's not so easy.

"The initial pass on a snow-bound road is the important thing," points out Administrator Joseph R. Nini. "You need those big machines with expert drivers to break the road open. Then the smaller ones can come along."

The Big Break. In the Borough, it was one of those days; the big front-end loader blew a piston on Sunday night.

"Like an elderly man suffering a heart-attack when he shovels a sidewalk," Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley shakes his head, "It was seven years old. . . ."

The Borough has budgeted the money to buy a new front-end loader.

The Snows of Yesteryear

As is often the case, it wasn't so much the snow but the drifts that made Sunday's storm seem so severe. The seven to nine inches which fell over the Princeton area were whirled by the wind to depths ranging from one to four or five feet, depending on where you live. That was the story of the grand-daddy of them all: In March, 1889, about 20 inches fell, but the drifts were frequently taller than a man. So it is that more snow (25.6 inches) actually fell over on December 26, 1947, than on any other date in Weathersburg history, because there was very little wind, no one ever talks about the "Blizzard of '47."

The heaviest pre-Christmas storm on record occurred on December 11 and 12, 1960, when some 15 inches fell. Less than two months later, on February 3 and 4, we were hit again by 12 to 15 inches of snow, but this time combined with a slightly smaller one on January 19 to make the winter of 1960-61 one of the worst the town has ever known.

Three years passed before another big snowfall struck Princeton — January 12 and 13, 1964, brought just over a foot. The blizzard of '67 was a storm, not only were 13 inches recorded on February 7 but the snow fell while the thermometer was dropping to around 10 degrees.

Technically, a snowstorm is only a blizzard when the winds are blowing 35 miles an hour and the thermometer is far below freezing. Last Sunday it was right around 32 all day.

This Is Princeton

and loader, and Mr. Cawley faced with a blown piston, decided to pick up his new machine ahead of time on Monday morning.

Before he could move, however, he felt the cold hand of the law on his snowy shoulder. The money for that front-end loader has only been huddled — it is not actually in hand, and the budget won't even be passed for another month. To buy the loader now would invite all kinds of hideous legal problems and maybe even land somebody (Mr. Cawley?) in jail.

So the Borough is renting the loader and the daily rental is being applied to the purchase cost.

Snow Plus Wind. In town, the toughest place to plow was Walnut Lane — Franklin Avenue, Mr. Cawley says.

"We have this agreement with the Township — we plow the streets where the order is. We opened Walnut Lane up with the plow between Guyot Avenue and Franklin, Monday afternoon, we plowed it at 1:30 and by 5, it was closed completely again."

Parking lots are only cleared after all the streets are clear. Mr. Cawley says. A crew worked all Monday night and cleared all 500 of street parking places by 8 a.m. Tuesday. Men get time and a half, after eight hours of work. The Borough tries not to have its road crews work more than 12 hours, even though many men want to because of the overtime. Over-charge can mean accidents.

Snow cleared from those parking lots is carted in trucks to the old Spruce Street quarry for dumping. The Borough has more equipment than men and always hires other Borough employees, meter men, sewer employees, etc. to help out. The chief trouble is finding manual snow-shovelers. That's a job nobody wants, even the kids.

I'm Abandoned! All this snow-plowing helped, of course, and maybe New York did have it worse, but there were still snow-bound problems.

The Princeton-Hightstown Road between Route 1 and Route 130 was blocked off from 10:30 a.m. Monday to 2:30 p.m. that afternoon. A giant commuters' traffic jam, complicated by drifting snow and abandoned cars, forced closing of the road by State Police.

Rosedale Road, which lies in Princeton Township, is new, cutless — a Mercer County Road, but it is so far out on the edges of the county that it almost never gets plowed. It was closed most of Monday.

"We finally sent Township trucks to sand Rosedale on Tuesday morning," Mr. Nini reports. "We just can't wait for the county — that road's too dangerous."

The Plainsboro - Cranbury Road was blocked shut on Route One to Cranbury. This road is like Rosedale — it's in the far reaches of Middlesex County, and is sometimes left to the last. (After all, New Brunswick itself had 15 inches of snow!) One resident of Princeton Ridge section of Rocky Hill said "even the snowplows are stuck."

No School — Schools, of course, were closed. Even on Tuesday, when the Princeton public schools opened the sending districts were absent. West Windsor couldn't move its school buses (eight West Windsor roads were closed Monday day morning at 10:30). Rocky Hill and Montgomery Townships joined West Windsor in staying home Tuesday.

The Princeton Regional Schools have now used two of the three allotted snow days. If other big storms hit, children will have a curtailed spring vacation or maybe even a tour of duty in the summer time.

I'm Safe. Strangely enough, there were hardly any accidents. One Borough patrolman said of the snowstorm, "It's something you can SEE" as opposed to an icy road, which can send a motorist into a dangerous skid before he knows the road is even icy.

One Monmouth Junction motorist did end up in Princeton Hospital, but not from a collision. He decided to let his car stay right there on Ridge Road, and he woke on Monday morning with — frostbite.

There were other casualties. Morning paper addicts found no morning papers Monday at about 9:30. A harrided graduate at Princeton University said, "I have seven we did guests stacked up in room, including my SEST from Florida!" Then, there's the Lawrence Township home-owner signed up, some months ago with a man who agreed to plow his driveway, come next snow.

The snow-plow man appeared. The household grumbling and gruffing a prancing, made his way through the drifts on Monday morning to the foot of his driveway. There he encountered his neighbor, who called cheerful greeting:

"Say, whaddya think? don't know who it was somebody came around plowed out my driveway."

TOPICS Of The Town.

TAXES?

Of Course, The Borough tax rate will take an 80c leap this year, while the Township makes a modest 13c hop.

Municipal budgets were introduced in both Princeton on Monday. The Township's will be open to public hearing on Monday, March 17, and the Borough's on Tuesday, March 18.

School and county levies account for the biggest share of increases. That accounting error in the Princeton school system shoots the Borough's tax rate up 81c—but just for this year, of course. The Township, which had been overpaying its school share, has a school increase of only 3c.

Township taxpayers have another reason to smile: the local-purpose taxes this year was actually dropped by 12c and the amount to be raised by taxation is down $22,658—20.7% lower than it was for 1952.

This is chiefly due to a 2.76% increase in Township rates: $2,267,071 more than last year, for a $37,041,071 total.

At least, that's the educated guess. Mercer County contracted with a bank in south Jersey to do the computer work on this year's rates.

and accurate figures are still not in.

This means that both Borough and Township budgets are hedged about with words like "tentative" and "estimated" and "preliminary."

Down With Taxes. During the special Township Committee meeting held Monday to introduce the budget, Committeeman William L. Wilson pointed with pride to a new local rate only 1c higher than nine years ago. It is also the lowest local rate since 1960.

"Our local-purpose increase has only been 15% in that period," Mr. Wilson said.

The Township's dollar budget is $1,928,445 (up 5.1%) and the amount to be raised by taxes is $790,517, down from $873,175.

The tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation is therefore $6.57, in contrast to $6.44, last year.

The Borough taxpayer will pay $5.70 per $100 on his house, instead of the $5.90 he paid last year. Of this, $1.38 (instead of $1.32) is for local purposes, a 4.6% rise.

The total Borough budget is $1,593,054. The amount to be raised from the local taxpayer is $667,751. (Last year, it was $637,744.)

Sales Tax Comes Home. Borough and Township, like other municipalities, benefit from the New Jersey sales tax. The Borough will get back $17,027 and the Township $41,177.

"Here in the Township," said Mayor John D. Wallace, "We wanted to return that entire $41,000 to the taxpayers—it's slightly less than live tax points—rather than live tax to increase our expenditures. We won't be able to do it every year, but this year, we did."

More Pay. Salary increases swell this year's budgets in both communities. All patrolmen will receive about $550 more a year (in the Borough it's $596, in the Township $550). The difference is simply a matter of calculation: the Borough used a percentage, the Township round figures.)

In the Borough, a first-year patrolman will now receive $8,324, instead of $7,850. Men will rise to $9,646 in four yearly steps.

Borough sergeants will now receive $10,468 (up from $9,875); lieutenants, $11,750 (up from $10,750) and the chief, $13,300 (up from $12,300).

This is slightly less than what the police asked for, which was a straight 10% increase.

All Borough personnel will receive at least 6% raises, department heads slightly more. Most Borough employees have now reached the ceiling of the 1965 Barrington study that laid out a salary ladder for municipal employees.

The Borough's budget leaves those parking garages still in the imagination. But $10,000 has been added to the capital improvement fund, beefing it up to $17,000 so the Borough will have the money for 5% down payment if it decides to float a bond issue for garage construction.

The Township's salary budget includes $55,318 for raises and additional salaries. Included in the figure is $5,000 to finance a summer youth work program. This summer, as last, older teen boys will be hired to clean up Open Space lands and build paths.

The $17,350 jump in the Princeton Public Library's budget slice is mostly for salary increases. The Township plans to buy a second traffic counter so the planning Board can find out which roads are most used, and a sixth police car with oxygen tanks, fire extinguishers, first aid ropes and the like.

In Johnson's rowdy, bawdy comedy, Vinton Lawrence, a Princeton freshman making his Intime debut, will play Subtle the Alchemist. Eric von Starck will be Face the Butler and Barbara Herzberg, Doll Common.

Mr. von Starck, a Princeton senior, appeared in last year's "Incident at Vichy" and in "Hamlet." This season, he has appeared in "The Killer," Miss Herzberg appeared in "The Beggar's Opera" at McCarter, and in "Separate Tables" with the Princeton Community Players.

Jon R. Lorrain, executive director of Theatre Intime, is directing "The Alchemist." Mr. Sykes will stage manager, George Miller and Frank Smith have designed and built the set. Mr. Smith, with Richard Williams, is lighting man.

SILENCE

In "Film-Novel." A series of 15 unrelated episodes, woven together in a kind of "film novel" — according to one critic — is Peter Emanuel Goldman's "Echoes of Silence," a classic of the underground cinema. "Echoes of Silence" will be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 p.m., as the newest in the theatre's New Cinema series.

Made over a three year period (1962-65) on a budget of $1,500, "Echoes of Silence" is virtually a silent film, except for a music track. It portrays the sexual problems of Greenwich Village through the eyes of three characters common to each of the 15 episodes.

STEPPENWOLF

For Country Joe. Remember when Country Joe & The Fish postponed last November?

If you still have your ticket stubs from that non-concert, mail or take them to the McCarter Theatre's box-office and apply them to purchase of a ticket to Steppenwolf on Saturday, March 8 at 8 p.m.

Steppenwolf will be in Dillon Gymnasium as part of Junior Prom Weekend. Country Joe & The Fish can't come back for a new spring date, as McCarter had hoped, so ticket-holders can either switch allegiance to N.Y.U. Man to Moderate. Dr. Monroe Lippman, head of the department of drama and cinema at New York University, will moderate a symposium panel, "Capturing our Future Audiences" at McCarter Theatre on Monday, February 24.

The day-long symposium will begin at 10 a.m., with registration, followed by a performance of "The Three Sisters" by the McCarter repertory company at 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served after the play in the McCarter rehearsal room.

The symposium itself will begin at 2:30. Panelists joining Dr. Lippman will be Richard Mathews, an actor with the McCarter company, Roy Evans of Princeton High School's English department, Kaye Van Valkenburgh, a

McCarter Chekhov: Difficult Done Well

BY ERNEST SCHER

Bulletin Dram. Critic
PRINCETON — It is rare when one finds a production so evocative of particular time and place, so faithful to the playwright's intention as the current production of Chekhov's "The Three Sisters" at the McCarter Theatre.

Although it is dismayingly long, running close to three and one half hours, the drama of thwarted hopes in a changing society beautifully captures the sad, muted music of Chekhov as well as his quiet comedy.

These are the two things, the lyricism and the affectionate humor, that are most often missing when Americans attempt the plays of the great Russian dramatist.

EARLIER this season I speculated that Arthur Lithgow, McCarter's executive director, might have assembled an unusually good company. I'm glad to see I wasn't wrong.

It is an excellent group and it has in Kathryn Walker, Susan Kestlow and Beth Dixon, a trio of fine actresses to play the title roles.

Miss Walker, especially, is noteworthy as Olga, the school teacher who clearly sees her fate but is helpless to resist it.

She is immensely talented and brings a sensitive authority to the stage that has a steady effect on the rest of the company.

OLGA the prima and Mashie live in the country where life is dull and three educated women and existence for them, and those around them, seems futile.

They long to go to Moscow where they dream. Life will be rich and meaningful. Moscow is the symbol of their thwarted hopes, a magical place where love and work can be found. But it is only a symbol. One knows that even if they ever were to gain this impossible dream life would be the same for them.

THE production is staged like a mournful sigh, interspersed with brief moments of false joy, and gradually the pretense of the characters drapes himself in is stripped away. The only realist in "The Three Sisters" is Natasha, played by Holly Vailaire, who shrewdly marries into the family and aggressively takes possession of the house and its few remaining comforts.

Brendan Burke as the Baron, Robert Blackburn as the unhappily married commander of a local battery of soldiers, and Max Gulack, as a simple, foolish man who knows he is both simple and foolish, are all splendid.

The McCarter production of "The Three Sisters" distills the spirit and meaning of Chekhov in excellent fashion and leads one to wish that this repertory troupe isn't one of the most underrated in the country today.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Itomoni and Juliet (now playing), Italian director Franco Zeffirelli has given us an exciting interpretation of the old classic. The film swirls with color, movement and excitement—with the animal spirits and brashness of youth. Here are no languishing, sighing lovers.

Olivia Hussey, said to have been only 15 when she played the role, is the youngest actress ever to have undertaken the part of Juliet professionally. Leonard Whiting is said to have been only 17 when the film was made. Zeffirelli has been able to draw from these youngsters performances with a touching childlike quality, yet with an intensity and sexuality that makes plausible the tragic train of events.

He has taken many liberties with Shakespeare in an effort to stress its relevance to contemporary problems. The scene is mid 16th century Italy, rather than Shakespeare's Elizabethan 16th century, enabling the film to capitalize on the richness of Italian Renaissance costumes, interiors and architecture.

The scene opens with a clash in the marketplace of Verona between Montagues and Capulets which results in two Montagues being wounded. The incident nearly causes a major encounter between the two families, who are restrained by the Prince of Verona.

And it is here that Zeffirelli introduces his rich use of color, the stalls of gorgeous fruits and vegetables, the counterpointing orange clothing of the Capulets and the deep blues and purples of the more aristocratic Montagues.

The film follows in quick cuts that speed up the action. After the duel with Tybalt, Romeo robs in Friar Laurence's cell—"by his own tears made drunk;" the scene shifts to the lovers in bed. The bedroom scene has a glimpse of Romeo

"We have been quite successful in this," Robert Cassidy Mr. Comly's associate said the other day. "We hunt for all sorts of things — a coffee pot to go with a particular service, a tray for a tea service."

The Silver Shop has "an excellent supplier," according to Mr. Cassidy, who makes clear plastic liners for your silver mustard pots and open salts, so you can take those off the top shelf and get them fixed right off.

The shop can repair the annoying heat breaks in the ivory handles of tea and coffee pots. It also has woven handles made for guernsey jugs — and if you're with it, you're using your guernsey jug these days for cocktails as well as for milk or hot water.

Looking around the Silver Shop, we saw any number of intriguing pieces, with Mr. Cassidy supplying an interesting commentary. The most startling was an early 1900 solution to keeping foods hot. Imagine, if you can, a huge silver bowl about 2 1/2 inches that holds close to a half-gallon of steaming hot water. Covering it is a silver tray that contains openings for three all-weather vegetables dishes, each with an ornate lid, and in the standing nude at the window. Pat Heywood endows the role of nurse with an earthy, lusty quality. She makes a memorable appearance in the "square looking for Romeo—approaching like "a fine barge" in her coat of many colors, her long white headress like "a sail."

John McNery's flashing performance as Mercutio sometimes steals the show. Michael York as Tybalt and Milo O'Shea as Friar Laurence are excellent. In all, it's a version of "Romeo and Juliet" with which young people can identify.

GARDEN

The Sergeant (now playing). This is a film that carries the "restricted" classification. It is a generally faithful adaptation of the Dennis Murphy novel, with a script by the author himself.

The story concerns a tough American top sergeant with homosexual inclinations that are so latent that he does not at first recognize why he is strongly attracted to a handsome young private under his command.

In the role of the professional soldier who acquires self knowledge with tragic results, Rod Taylor gives an interesting, uneven performance. John Philip Law has some good moments, too, as the sensitive private who prefers girls—specifically, in the film, a French girl, played by Ludmilla Miklo.

In other words, it is sort of a male version of "The Fox."

AND A BAR ROOM PIANO: The mystery King and Queen of the Carnival will appear at Friday night's Mardi Gras in John Witherspoon School, planned by the Parent-Teacher Association — a group that is in a dangerously merry mood. In addition to a casino ("We were nearly arrested when we asked the police for chips"), there will be strenuous games, a couple of hands, door prizes, food, a midway (a nickel a try?) and, if the search is successful, a bar piano. Dr. Wesley Johnson will do the cakewalk at 8:30 point in the festivities. It's an all-out affair for the J parents and friends. Hours are 8 to 11; admission is 50¢ and wear your fun clothes.

It's New To Us

GRANDMA'S DELIGHT: The Little Clothes Line isn't just grandmothers who buy children's things at the Little Clothes Line in Palmer Square. It's about 90-95 mothers and grandmothers.

It's just that the window of the Little Clothes Line always has a covey of cool middleaged women peering at the display of Swiss embroidered bobby suits and dresses.

The clothes are enchanting, undeniably. A lot of repeat customers are from out of town, and new people here find the shop quickly.

Primarily, the Little Clothes Line is a gift shop. About 75% of the customers want their purchases gift-wrapped. And the shop mails its things all over the country.

There is the lingering touch of the Nana in the exquisite clothes on display. By and large, they are conservative.

By "conservative," we mean gently modernized versions of the traditional — such as the ever-flattering smocked dresses for little girls in today's amusing fabrics, or the simple, elegant little sun dresses.

For little boys, (the boys' line has gotten a lot more interesting,) we saw some simple but sporty seersucker jackets with matching shorts. The jackets are collarless and the seersucker weave we liked was in red, white and grey. ($14.95)

The bobby suits will make you exclaim. Among them, and it is hard to choose, is one in blue with a white collar. Gay little bugs blowing trumpets are embroidered down the front.

Also for boys, a sunsuit with an embroidered camel, a seersucker romper with an embroidered goat, rooster and puppy looking up at the sun ($5.95). Among the stretch suits, a blue-and-white striped with mother duck and her two offspring embroidered on the white yoke.

The embroidery is child-oriented, amusing. It is done in Switzerland on American fabrics and from American patterns.

The Little Clothes Line sells a lot of boucle suits, little jumpers that are wearable all year long. We fell in love with a gold and white set, trimmed with a gold bear and honey pot — and two small bees hovering overhead. The boucles go through the washer and drier beautifully.

Going over to the little girls' section, we picked an infant's size dress in a white and white gingham with a row of starflowers across the chest and flipped up the hem to see the matching tulip uned parties. We never see anything so charming. But you may prefer the mingling dress in pink gingham, long pants and feet. It's lightful!

The sundresses are amply embroidered or appliqued. There's a coy cutter peeking around a yellow flower on a simple little green and white gingham. Another is an easy-to-iron style that clings with a single button on each arm, and the ruffles panties show through the slit.

You'll find a fine variety of infants wear, blankets, quilted-printed quilts, and clothes range from the through toddlers up to age 8 or 10.

And around the walls, you see the Little Clothes Line collection of cuddly and There's even "Hugnik," a foot long mouse in a stripes who is so flexible your favorite small fry can anything with him. Even him in a knot.

Primer on Applause.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
McCart Theatre's recent presentation of the Joffrey Ballet was partly marred, I felt, by intrusive patterns of applause from the audience; this happens regularly not only to other ballet but to musical concerts as well.

Since the conventions of applause on these occasions seem either not known or not accepted, they are perhaps worth restating and re-emphasizing. Performers should be applauded only at the end of complete works, never between the movements of sonata or symphony and never between the different sections of a short ballet, the sole exceptions being a pas de deux of manifest virtuosity.

Against this it may be argued, "Why shouldn't an audience show its wholesome en-

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

Joyment and enthusiasm spontaneously, instead of being counted by convention!" The answer is that there are good reasons for these conventions. Ballet and music are for the most part the very opposite of spontaneous acts; intrusive applause breaks up the wholeness and formality of their individual works.

We are not here dealing with the situations of jazz or of drama geared to audience participation, which are essentially informal or even anti-formal. Ballet and music depend on the non-participation of the audience in order to develop unity; the balance and contrast of moods between different sections is ruined by clapping.

Applause should be our tribute to the artists as people after they have completed their work and stepped out of their roles. To clap them individually or collectively before this is to interrupt the unity they are striving for, to break the aesthetic illusion they have created.

The audience which asserts itself in this way is not truly appreciative; it distorts formal works of art into variety shows by breaking them up into short, easily assimilated pieces, reducing them to the status of a series of fancy-dress stunts or "acts." Variety is a legitimate form with its own rhythm, but its patterns of audience response are not applicable to ballet and music, which demand a more humble and silent attention through to the conclusion, at which the applause should be all the greater.

I feel that the fine work we are privileged to see at McCarter deserves a more sustained and self-effacing appreciation than is shown by intrusive clapping, which is liable to seem at once naive and patronizing.

Credit Where It's Due.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
While it is true that I contacted the township police to report the fire in one of the buildings of the Hun School, (TOWN TOPICS, Feb. 6) credit for such help as that report may deserve belongs to our Komander puppy, Duna, who got me up before the flames were visible, ran roaring to the fence which confines him when I did not understand and called my attention to that roof line just as the flames broke through.

Good watch dogs are good friends and neighbors.

Thanks from Goucher Club.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
On behalf of the Goucher Club of Princeton I would like to once again thank those members of the Princeton community who so unselfishly gave of their time to make our Second Annual Children's Film "Smokeys" such a success.

To Mr. Knight, the manager of the Princeton Playhouse go our heartfelt thanks for his wonderful public spirited guidance and cooperation in planning and carrying out our benefit. To Allen's, Male's and Hult's we express our appreciation for their kind help and if YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to express your appreciation is to mention it to our subscribers.

cooperation in selling our tickets.

Our thanks go to those Princeton families who brought their children to see our film. Thanks to you all we were again able to make a generous contribution to the Goucher College Scholarship Fund.

We are looking forward to planning next year's third annual film.

Bard Night A Success.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to thank you very much for your help in making Jim Bard Night such a success. Your generous co-operation in helping to publicize it certainly contributed to its success.

The total of the funds raised amounted to $2,240.00, and more than 800 spectators attended. We were deeply moved by the support shown by the community and sincerely appreciate your enthusiasm in publicizing it for us.

Once again, many thanks.

The state's newest, most advanced training school cares for juvenile offenders between the ages of 8 to 13, who have no prior commitment record. Only 12 to 14 boys are added each month, the average commitment rate for first offenders in the state in this age group. It is believed that first offenders, separated from older juveniles will have a better chance of complete rehabilitation.

The Council of Community services, through its staff and the juvenile offenders committee plans to act as support- and possible coordinator of area groups involvement. # Joint Recreation Board Lowers Some Pool Fees

Hopes Increased Use Will Offset Income Loss

The Joint Recreation Board has announced a number of changes for the coming season involving fees, hours and policies of the Community Park pool complex.

"This is it," said R. Donald Barr, executive director of the board. "We have given this a tremendous amount of consideration. For the nth time, we've gone over the facts, and this is our final pool policy for 1969."

The highlights:
Daily Fees: The daily admission fee for children 12 and under has been cut in half—from 50 cents to 25 cents. The weekend and holiday rate has been cut from 75 cents to 50 cents. Unchanged are the adults fees ($1 and over) of $1 and $1.50 and guest fees.

Season Ticket Fees: Season tickets for those 15 and under have been reduced from $15 to $10. In addition, two new categories have been established: Adult $5 and over for whom a season's ticket will cost $12, and husband and wife over $5. Season tickets for children under $15. These are reductions of $3 and $5 respectively.

Unchanged are a family ($20), husband and wife ($25) and individual 16 and over ($15). Not affected are non-resident and guest fees.

There have been no fee changes involving the 15 teen courts at Community Park.

Hours: The pools will be open seven days a week instead of six. New daily hours will be from 11:30 to 8 p.m.

On weekends and holidays, the pools will open at 9 a.m.—the hour they opened each day last year. During the first few weeks in June and for the last weekend after Labor Day, the pools will be open from 10 to 6 p.m.

Policy Changes: Swimmers who pay the daily admission fee can now leave and re-enter the pool as often as they wish for a single admission fee. Mr. Barr said that an ultra violet light, hand-sanitizing procedure will be inaugurated.

Princeton families will be considered a member of the family for the length of their stay.

Season tickets can now be purchased under an installment plan by those who can't afford to pay the cost in one lump sum. Arrangements with wide-ranging flexibility can be made between the applicant and Mr. Barr, who reported that the only wish of the board in the matter is that the ticket be paid for if possible by the opening of the pools.

The free instructional swim program will be broadened to include intermediate and advanced swimmers—and adults, too, if the demand is great enough. Open only to Princeton residents or season ticket holders, the program will be conducted from 9 to 11:30 weekday mornings.

More Scholarships. In a basic departure from last year, Mr. Barr announced that the board plans to expand greatly its program of pool scholarships (free season tickets). He said that the board intends to increase its contacts with recognized welfare and other community agencies to help identify those who are in genuine need of financial help—both young and old.

Such individuals or families who are identified by agencies or who identify themselves will be given free season tickets without any further questions asked. "We feel this will eliminate the means test which so many people find objectionable," Mr. Barr said.

In essence, the board is replacing the two free swim periods it offered last year from 9 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. with its expanded scholarship program. There will be no free swim periods this summer.

"We found that the 6 to 8 period was being used mainly by persons who could easily afford to pay," explained Mr. Barr. Many of those taking advantage of the free swim period had purchased season tickets the year before. "As for the 9 to 11 period, that just wasn't used as much as we had hoped it would be."

The board has tried, in its new policies, to meet the objections raised to the pool during its first two years of operation. In making the changes, it said in a formal statement that it had been guided by the following objectives:

1. To charge Princeton residents the lowest possible fees consistent with maintaining a superior facility and recovering current operating costs.

2. To assure that no Princeton resident is denied entrance to the pools for economic reasons.

3. To encourage broad-based resident use of the pools.

Mr. Barr estimates cutting the daily admission fees for children will reduce pool income by $300. "Twenty-five cents a day is really cheap swimming for a pool like this," he said. He is hopeful that the difference will be made up in increased usage.

His concern is a real one because the board is committed to the Borough and Township, which provided the capital funds for the pool's construction to meet operating costs. Last summer, pool income was $54,759. Pool expenses totaled $54,663 for a paper-thin surplus of $96.

In a special meeting held last week for comments by Princeton residents on the pools, Mr. Barr read 10 letters he had received. Their pro and con points ranged from a suggestion to have the lockers adjusted so the user didn't have to pay every time he used it, to a well thought-out, three-page typewritten letter containing three "minor recommendations" and three "major proposals."

Those contributing letters were Mrs. Winifred Procter, 81 Moore Street; Lowell F. Curran, 50 Murray Place; Mrs. Stuart B. Berger, 59 Marion Road; Charles R. Erdman, 20 Boudinot Street; Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rice, 118 Dodds Lane; Irwin Weiss, 248 Moore; Mrs. Benson Corlin, 228 Torhune Road; Mrs. Charles J. Hunt Jr., 29 Cuyler Road; Mrs. Orren Jack Turner, 39 Hamilton Avenue; and Mrs. Edward Nelson, 165 Hickory Court.

Opens It Up! One of two who spoke at the meeting was Seymour Alpert, 27 Randolph Road. He urged the Board to have more special events at the pool, giving as one example a free day once in a while for everyone.

"Open it up," he said. "The board is a little up tight. I have the feeling they are afraid to use the facility. They're too conservative."

The board intends to do just that. Mr. Barr reported that the Board, in conjunction with the high school, is planning to hold a junior prom at the pools on May 16. An AAU Regional Finals meet will be held July 21-22 at the pool complex in which contestants from seven states will compete.

On these days, the pools will be closed from 5:30 to 12 noon and from 6 to 8 p.m. They will be open from 12 to 6 to the public. Those holding season tickets will be admitted free to the meet.

New Chairman: Dean Chase from the Township has been named chairman of the board, replacing the Borough's John Conroy. Mrs. Francis Hulmer of the Borough is the new vice-chairman, replacing Robert Sinkler of the Township. Other Borough board members are Wilbert Brock, and William J. Armiger; from the Township, Mrs. Josephine Mathey and William H. Bonthron.

The board will meet next February 19 at 8:15 p.m. in Room G-25 in the high school.

mission will have a first-year budget of $5,500. The Township has set aside slightly more than half—$3,000—as its share.

The Joint Recreation Commission board is up, because the Princeton Community Swimming Pool will be open this summer on Mondays.

Money Coming In. Municipalities do take in money as well as pay it out—as its share in taxes. In the Borough for example, the 1969 revenues will be $1,131,891. The biggest piece is $446,000 from the neighboring Township for sewer and incinerator use (the University pays $65,000 as its share).

New Jersey Bell Telephone and Public Service Company pay $150,000 in franchise taxes, and Princeton shoppers pay $105,000 in parking meter pennies.

HOUSING GROUP FORMED

To Advise P.C.H. What kind of middle income housing do Princeton residents want? About 30 people from Borough, Township and afield, but employed here, attended a meeting in Township Hall Tuesday night to talk about middle-income housing with representatives of Princeton Community Housing, Inc., the non profit corporation that's planning some 275 mid income units for Borough and Township.

After the brief meeting, Dan Mager of 719 Hilecock Court, volunteered to be the temporary chairman of a Citizens' Advisory group and to let everybody present know when the next meeting will be.

P.C.H. Inc. has obtained the Borough parking lot on Spring Watership near to the library and plans about 75 units there with underground and on site parking. The units will be chiefly one bedroom, with a few efficiency apartments and a few two bedroom units.

In the Township, a site committee is looking for land. The architecture firm is developing a plan for about 200 housing units.

Children? One of the main items of discussion Tuesday night was P.C.H. policy about children. Would they be allowed?

"It was understood in the Borough that no children would be allowed in the Borough units," stated Mrs. Richard Edwards, 26 Green, Jackson English. P.C.H. board members representing the Unitarian Church, explained that Borough-Township were considered as a unit, one balancing the other. In the Borough units, but families in the Township.

Jay Lynch, of Alvin Gershen Associates, the firm working with P.C.H., explained that his firm and P.C.H. want to hold off on the actual distribution of families and single tenants until plans for the Township units are further along. The state, he added, does want larger units for families. P.C.H. believes that if Township and Borough are considered as one, the state desires can be met.

"You could start out in the Borough as a newly married couple then move into a larger Township 'family' apartment in a few years," Mr. Lynch suggested.

He told the group that occupancy limitations would guarantee against eight people, for example, living in a one bed room apartment.

Experiment? "Are you going to use experimental construction techniques to keep costs down?" demanded Mr. Mager. Mr. Lynch replied that enormous construction savings would be required to have any effect at all on rents. He estimated that construction costs account for 55% of the rent. If 10% can be saved on construction costs, this isn't going to save much on rent, he pointed out.

Mr. English, admitting the inefficiency of most construction techniques, that experiment would take time too long, and Mr. Mager called it "You're giving up!"

Mr. Lynch said the New Jersey enabling law for middle income housing encourages experimentation, and he promised he would discuss the question with Robert Geddes, whose firm of architects has

Snow Blocks Road Plan

Roads that already exist were given enough trouble in snowy Princeton Township Monday night. So the Township Planning Board called off its scheduled public hearing on the Road Master Plan and its roads of the future.

The hearing will be held on Tuesday, March 4 at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. The Planning Board has been conferring for many weeks with various property owners concerned with the Road Master Plan, and the board's report will be out of most of these people by telephone on Monday.

been retained to design the Borough units.

Mr. Lynch also informed the audience that ways to get the interest rate from 6% to 15% for middle income housing, are being studied.

The new citizens group will talk about all these questions, plus others, such as more hostile, like "Is the cost worth it to the Princeton community?" which was raised Tuesday night.

800 COEDS ADDED

To Princeton Campus. Nearly 800 girls from some 30 female colleges joined the university community early this week, welcomed by hordes of admiring undergraduates and the flowered toilet paper supplied by the Princeton administration.

Delayed by the nine-inch blizzard, about half the girls arrived late, but the weather didn't dampen their enthusiasm for the opportunity to share a week of classes with Princetonians. It took me eight hours to get here from Sweet Briar," said one girl who started from the Virginia college at 6 a.m. in a rainy morning, "but it's going to be well worth it."

"I wanted to get to know the old Princeton before coeducation," noted Col. Cornelius, a junior at Wheaton College. "The place is going to be all new."

Others were more in favor of coeducation, and wanted to get in on the ground floor. "Princeton is a sophisticated town," from Briarcliff, commented. "All the good schools are going coeducational now. I want to see what Princeton's like during the week, as well as on the weekends, so that I'll be able to make a decision about transferring."

The men, however, were skeptical about the chances for achieving academic nonparity during a week of coeducational classes. "I'll be getting off to do half the work this week," one normally do," said one senior, as he helped his fiancée out of her car from Pembroke. "I'm mainly interested in how many girls will show up for my engineering classes."

Asked about potential problems with male admirers trying to reach her by telephone at all hours of the night, Sharon Werner, a junior at Bryn Mawr, replied smoothly, "You call those problems?"

But while men and women alike generally looked forward to leisure filled week of classes and fun in the show, a few men couldn't get really excited. "There's going to be a very big letdown," said junior Peter Cohen, one of the project's organizers, looking forward to 10 more weeks of classes after the girls leave next Friday.

AREA SOLDIER KILLED

In Vietnam. A 22-year-old Dutch Neck, N.J., whose tour of duty in Vietnam would have ended in 60 days, was killed February 2 as the result of a rocket attack north of Saigon. Sp4 Thomas R. Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Grover, Village Road East, would have returned to the United States in early April, according to his father. Sp4 Grover, a rifle squad leader with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade of the Third Division, had been wounded last November in a battle near a town where he was killed. He had received the purple heart for his wounds, but it lacked on a number of the nearest existing properties which were inflicted by shrapnel.

A graduate of Princeton High School, he had attended Rider College, and was employed full-time by the Hightstown Post Office when he was drafted.

He is also survived by two brothers, Private Ted Grover, 20, also serving in the Army at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Robin at home; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. LeRoy Grover St., of Hightstown.

The service will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at the A. S. Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury, with the Rev. James S. Weaver, pastor of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Dutch Neck cemetery.

OKAY SEMINARY DORM

Bot Zoners Add Restrictions. The Borough Zoning Board last week gave Princeton Theological Seminary the conditional use permit needed to build a new, three-story residence hall at 20 Library Place.

Also, the board stipulated that no new structure could be erected on an open, 91-foot strip of land the Seminary owns that runs between the library and Edgehill in the north wall of the proposed hall.

The board ruled that an existing narrow drive that runs from 12 Library Place through to Edgehill Street must be closed to all traffic. All traffic in the construction of the residence hall may not enter the site from Edgehill.

In addition, the board requested that an overall parking plan for the entire seminary be submitted and that a second plan outlining plantings and landscaping on the Edgehill site of the proposed new hall be submitted to the Borough Zoning officer for his approval. (The 16 spaces required by the new hall would bring the total number of additional parking spaces for the seminary to provide to 258. It presently has 452.)

Also, the board stipulated that no new structure could be erected on an open, 91-foot strip of land the Seminary owns that runs between the library and Edgehill in the north wall of the proposed hall.

The board also granted a 15-foot variance. Zoning laws require a 45-foot space between the nearest points of an existing and proposed building. Seminary plans showed a 20-foot space between its hall and the nearest point of the closest existing building — its Center for Continuing Education at 12 Library Place.

One wing of the new hall will house 38 dormitory students. A second wing will be reserved primarily for guests associated with the Center for Continuing Education. It will provide guest rooms for 12. Dr. James I. McCord, Seminary president, testified before the board.

the board that the new residence hall was one of three buildings in the Seminary's long-range planning. "Our last academic building, Stuart Hall, was built in 1876. We are going to have to build another larger building," he said. "We also need a new post-doctoral academy." He added they were projected on other locations on the campus.

Bell Can Expand. The Bell Telephone Company was granted a conditional use to extend its central switching building at 289 Nassau Street by 20 feet. David E. Lewis, general agent for Bell, told the board that his company had estimated the building would not be able to handle additional service beyond September, 1970.

unless it were expanded. He said the mechanical equipment which had to be added was "essential to service all of Princeton."

In another case, the board waived two parking spaces, granting a request by Dr. Donald Pickering, who is constructing a two-story parking facility to the rear of his office building at 22 Chambers Street. The new ordinance calls for 63 spaces but Dr. Pickering's attorney, Samuel Lambert, testified that "a practical difficulty" concerning the board's decision to waive two spaces could be eliminated if two spaces could be waived.

Two Carried Over. Two cases were carried over. The board asked Oliver Houghton to resubmit plans covering all the factors involved in his plans to build a two-story addition to his office building at 221 Witherpoon Street. Only

Question of the Week

What says the weatherman, I'd like to know,
But turn him off.
If he says, "more snow."

If you listen carefully, he's saying, "More snow — maybe."

Weather-map watchers are keeping a firm eye on a big low pressure center born in the Texas Panhandle and moving this way in determined fashion. It seems sure to bring precipitation Friday night or Saturday but whether rain or more snow, the Man simply says, "Wait and see."

tion to his office building at 221 Witherpoon Street. Only joint occupancy is permitted in the zones in which the building is located.

The YNCA was also told to come back to give the board a chance to look at his new plans for traffic flow connected with its proposed construction of a new gym and new social wing.

The Y had been sent to the Planning Board to permit the latter to review the Y's parking plans. The planning board had some reservations about the locations of certain exits and entrances. Two days later, the Y appeared before the zoning board but with a different plan than the one they had shown the planning board.

The zoners want the Planning Board to see this latest plan before they make a ruling on the application. The Y needs several variances and a conditional use permit.

PARKED CARS TARGET

Of thefts. Borough police reported the theft during the weekend of articles from two parked cars.

Patricia Jasienowski of Parlin lost expensive jewelry and clothing valued at $800 when her suitcase was stolen Friday from the front seat of her car. Her University date for the weekend, Denis Grande, told police she parked her car in the University Store lot and when she returned 15 minutes later, the suitcase was gone.

Gregory Zalc of Campbell Hall had a sport coat, light meter and radio speaker taken from his car parked behind Dial Lodge on Prospect Avenue. He placed the theft between 6-8 and 9-11 p.m. Saturday.

A Hightstown youth attending the dance at The Catacombs in Trinity Church Saturday night told police that all the wires of his car had been ripped out while it was in the church lot. "It seems every Saturday night we get a report of some incident of this type at the dance or in the vicinity," said Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

On Thursday, Borough police with the aid of Township police extinguished a motor fire on a car parked on Spring Street. Police said the motor of a 1964 station wagon owned by Mrs. Dale Madden, 155 Bertrand Drive, was "fairly well damaged."

MAK NAMED CHAIRMAN
Of Civil Rights Commission.
Gordon Mack, who served as chairman for the original study group, has been appointed first year chairman of the new Joint Civil Rights Commission for Princeton.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson announced at Borough Council Tuesday night that he and Township Mayor John D. Wallace had agreed on an appointment. Both mayors will meet Saturday with Mr. Mack, but the chairman has already called his members for a meeting before Saturday, Mayor Patterson said.

A parking ordinance amendment rolling several hits into one package, was introduced by Council Tuesday night. Public hearing March 11. Included:

- Two-hour parking limit on John Street, replacing the all-day parking on the Borough restricts all day parking on various streets (Green, last year), car owners edge onto other streets (John, in this case).

Mayor Patterson, who said he often wondered where it would all end, expressed sympathy with home owners who aren't allowed to park in front of their own homes because of two-hour limits, but said he had no solution. The two hour John Street limit was requested in a 28-signature petition.

- A Mercer Street crosswalk for Seminary students shutting between the Seminary library and the Seminary campus. The state says OK.

- "No parking" on South Tulane for 150 feet back from Nassau Street.
- Legalization of present parking on University Place, and at the Alexander Street-Mercer Street intersection. The Borough had intended to switch sides on University Place, but the new University Store parking lot design is so successful that the Borough doesn't either have to fight or switch.

A memorial sculpture to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., executed by David Savage, will be erected by the First Baptist Church on a triangle of land that has belonged to the Borough. The Borough will transfer the parcel to the church.

Nobody objected - or a p proved either, for that matter - so Council passed the ordinance changing Spruce Street East to Bainbridge Street. Street only exists on a map, anyway.

Councilman Charles Cornforth reminded Council that the Borough spent $20,000 last year on new parking meters that will only take more money.

In January of this year, meter receipts were $12,772. In January of last year, with the old and cheap meters, receipts were $7,190.

"A good return on our investment," commented Councilman Fred Peterson.

RED CROSS TO TRAIN

Blood Program Volunteers.
The Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross plans to offer training course for volunteers to work as Blood Program Aides and for registered and licensed practical nurses who are willing to work on bloodmobile units.

The three-hour training program will be held at the First Aid and Rescue Squad building on Harrison Street at 10 a.m., February 19. Blood Program Aides are responsible for registering donors, labeling containers and assisting the nurses in the donor room.

Volunteer nurses are needed for taking the medical histories of the donors. The blood mobile visits about 35 industries in the Princeton area each month. Further information may be obtained by calling the Red Cross at 924-2401.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

ELECTRICAL FIRE MONDAY

Small Damage to Apartment.
Fire, originating in electrical wiring in the walls, caused minor damage Monday evening to an apartment at 296 Wabash Street. It is occupied by John Ingram.

Borough Patrolmen John Belaw, Tim Huizing and Victor Fasvella responded to the 8:17 p.m. call and requested one piece of equipment after they arrived.

Princeton Fire Chief Alex Subite reported "there was no damage at all." He said that some wiring had been shorted by melting snow and ignited, causing a small portion of the wall to smolder.

CONVOY HOME ENTERED

On Parkside Drive.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Conover, 131 Parkside Drive, was entered and ransacked last week.

It was entered last Tuesday morning between 8 and noon by someone who forced a bedroom window. Township detective Samuel Blanco, who is continuing the investigation, reported that apparently nothing was taken with the exception of a small amount of money.

MARKS IS PRESIDENT

Of School Board.
John Marks, now entering his second year as a member of the Princeton Regional School Board, was elected president of the board at the reorganization meeting held Monday.

William Marvel, also entering his second year of service, was elected vice president.

Mr. Marks succeeds Mrs. George Freeman who now joins the rank and file of board members after a two-year term as president.

Thomas P. Cook was reappointed counsel to the board at the reorganization meeting, and the two new members, C. Shelby Rooks for the Township and Mrs. Richard Edgewood for the Borough, joined the re-elected Winthrop S. Pike on the newly constituted board.

BUSINESS In Princeton

GOURMET SOLD
Shop is 17 Years Old. The Princeton Gourmet, one of the community's most successful retail enterprises, has been sold to a young Philadelphia lawyer who would rather cook than practice law.

Phyllis Reilly and Patricia Gehlert, owners of The Gourmet, announced this week that Andrew Steiner and his wife, Ellen, the new owners, will take over immediately.

The Steiners own a shop called Bon Appetit at 19th and Chestnut in Philadelphia, and a branch in Jenkintown.

"We plan to keep The Gourmet pretty much the same with the same name," Mr. Steiner said, as he talked about his purchase, "but my chief interest is cooking, so we plan to specialize in cooking equipment—things we import directly from France, Germany, Italy and of course the Scandinavian countries."

Young Mr. Steiner—he is 27—is a member of the Pennsylvania bar. After the B.A. from St. John's College in Annapolis, he went to the University of Pennsylvania and obtained his law degree and his M.A. in philosophy at the same time.

"But it's more fun to cook and to run a shop and meet interesting people than to practice law," he smiled. "I've been giving omelet-making demonstrations—gave one the other day for 100 women, as a matter of fact." He is also an excellent pastry cook.

Need a Ductus? As soon as the deck strike alleys, Mr. Steiner will stock the Gourmet shelves with some of the exotic he selected during his latest buying trip to France.

A wood-rimmed French knife, white porcelain quiche pans, douille events, new whisks, curious specialty spoons—that kind of inventory.

Mr. Steiner first heard of the Princeton Gourmet two years ago when a customer told him a shop in Princeton had wrapping paper exactly like his. Considering the shopkeeper's choice of some 12,000 wrapping paper designs, it was a remarkable coincidence.

Even more remarkable was Mr. Steiner's discovery that each shop later changed wrapping paper, and again chose the same one.

He decided he had to visit a shop whose owners had tastes so uncannily like his own. Last summer, he came for a visit and negotiations have been pleasantly under way ever since.

History. Purchase of the Gourmet does not include purchase of its home, the eighteenth-century building at Nassau and Harrison. Miss Reilly and Miss Gehlert will retain ownership and Mr. Steiner will be their tenant. Mrs. Frank Criblow will remain as manager of the shop.

The building, which dates to about 1730, has been the home of The Princeton Gazette since 1955. The shop itself was started two years earlier. "The Gourmet Girls," as they have come to be known, opened The Gourmet in an old house that used to be behind Cox Delicatessen.

The Gourmet's founders are no party to plans for the moment. They will remain as residents of the area—their home is in Griggstown—but have not yet decided about the future.

Don't worry about that mural on the outside north wall—Andy plans to keep it, as is.

BANK'S ASSETS JUMP

To $77.2 Million. The 76-year-old First National Bank of Princeton has announced an 11.7 percent increase in assets during 1968, to $77.2 million, according to the institution's current annual report.

Ralph H. Mather, president of the bank, said it had registered increases of 9.8 percent in demand deposits and 12 percent in time deposits. New estate accounts and other appointments pushed the direct income of the trust department up 29 percent, with assets now valued at $35 million.

More increases are yet to come, the bank predicts. "This has been one of the greatest years in our history," Mr. Mather commented, "but by providing more and better service to our banking customers, we anticipate that 1969 will be even greater."

NEW DIRECTOR CHOSEN

By Aluminum Corporation. Frederic R. Peterson, 30 Boudinot street, manager of the Princeton office of Laidlaw & Co., has been elected to the board of directors of Midwest Aluminum Corporation.

Mr. Peterson, a 1934 graduate of Princeton University, also serves as a member of Borough Council, a director of the Princeton Research Lands, Inc., Base Ten Systems, Inc., and Peterson's Guides.

He is a member of the advisory board of the First Trenton National Bank Branch in Pennington, and president of the Lawrenceville School Father's Association.

ELEGANCE FOR AN OFFICE: A Chippendale love-seat near a welcoming fireplace, warm brass lamps in the Williamsburg manner. This is the new Audrey Short real estate office, and that's Eleanor Kauffman, its decorator, decorating the love-seat.

In Decorating, The Personal Touch Match Decor to Personality

A masculine room, reflecting the strong reliability of an insurance agent; a deliciously frivolous wig-room for a hairdresser, recalling the happier days of Marie Antoinette. This is the range of versatility at the command of Eleanor Kauffman of Nassau Interiors.

Mrs. Kauffman, a member of the American Institute of Decorators, has been an institutional decorator for many years. In the single year she has been associated with Nassau Interiors, she has created office rooms for real estate agents, handdressers, lawyers, stock brokers.

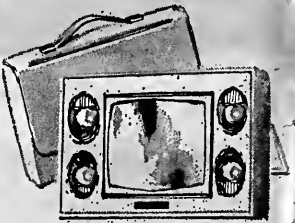

"First impressions for a firm's client are most important," Mrs. Kauffman emphasizes, "and a decorator's job is to create a comfortable and functional office space that reflects the personality of the client."

Year Office Home. The home feeling is particularly important for someone who sells homes. The new offices of Audrey Short, real estate agent, reflect this philosophy. —Continued on Page 22 have been done by Mrs. Kauffman in the Williamburg manner, a fashion which appeals in formality and 18th-century charm, to many people in Princeton.

Pride in her artistry shines through Mrs. Kauffman's smile as she walks through the Short office.

"Subtlety and warmth with colors to complement the all women staff of this office," she points out, calling loving attention to the antique gold carpet, the gentle bitterness and avocado accents in a curtain, and the repeating pineapple design that is Mrs. Short's trademark.

"I'm so excited about these windows," she exclaims. The Audrey Short offices are in an old house at 163 Nassau, and the windows are wonderfully tall and slim.

"We used a hand-drawn fabric here," she says, fluttering the draperies, "and look! The workmen in the drapery shop followed the contour of that cornice to a T!"

"I used textured modern fabrics," Mrs. Kauffman says, looking over swatches and photographs of the rooms. "Here is a 100-foot sofa and a ten-foot conference table for a huge conference room."

Expert. Chic as her own designs. Mrs. Kauffman has devoted her life to art, art history scholarship and interior decoration. She has a B.A. in art history from the University of Delaware, and she won a scholarship to pursue American studies at Winturthur Museum.

Graduate work abroad—chiefly in France—and additional study at the Parsons School of Design rounded out her professional studies.

But all that is behind her, now that she is with Nassau Interiors. The next exciting assignment is much more fun to think about.

"I'm doing the Houghton

"Really offices," she says with enthusiasm. "And I've chosen colors for that office—well, I won't tell anybody what they are! Just walk past the corner of Hurlish and Palmer Square East some day soon and you'll see!"

FUND DRIVE TOPS GOAL.
For 5th Consecutive Year.
The 1968 Princeton Area
United Fund-Red Cross Campaign exceeded its goal for the ninth year in a row, campaign chairman Willard Stinger announced at the group's annual meeting on Wednesday, February 12, in the Nassau Inn.
The fund exceeded its $460-297 goal by more than $8,000 at the completion of the drive.
Mr. Stinger added that the 1968 per capita contribution for the Princeton area was $10.90, compared to a national average of $4.35.

The highest divisional results for the campaign were attained by the research division, chaired by Stewart Otto.
The division raised $194,253.
Other contributions were: Special Gifts, Peter C. Holnback, 11, chairman, $138,571;
Princeton University, Dave
Rahr, chairman, $46,567; Pro-

PANTING FOR A CHANGE: Girls at Princeton Schools have won the right to wear pants and blue jeans to school. "I think we should be free to express ourselves," says Jean Jean weaver Margie Britt, in defending the new freedom. Bill Bonthron Jr. agrees the change is "nice."

Question Of The Week

Question: What is your reaction to girls being allowed now to wear pants and blue jeans to school?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Margie Britt, 71 Battle Road, PHS sophomore: I think it allows us to dress the way we want. It's nice to be able to forget about girdles. I think we should be comfortable in class and free to express our selves.

Bill Bonthron Jr., The Great Road, PHS senior: I think it's all right; it looks good. It's nice that they can wear what they want to. It's just nice—that's all there is to it.

Anne "Dusti" Brown, 50 Westcott Road, Community Park School: It's pretty good but the boys don't like it. Why? Beats me. It's easier. If you run out of skirts, you can always resort to slacks. It's more comfortable, too.

Richard Winthrop, 133 Jefferson Road, PHS senior: I think some girls have very bad taste in pants. I guess it would be all right if they would use the right discretion. Personally, I think they should wear dresses. Dresses, more or less fit the atmosphere of school. I don't not every day at Princeton High School principal got so fed up he just let them go ahead and now my sister gets to wear pants every day and I don't think that's right. If they go out after school, they look like slob.

Ken Klotzen, Mount Lucas Road, PHS senior: I feel it's really good. It's a practical move more than anything else. I don't see why girls should have to suffer in cold weather. I can't see any logical or moral objection to it. The old code in which slacks were not allowed in school was merely a holdover from a philosophy long out of date. I think it was time for a change.

Cindy Chambers, Colonial Avenue, Princeton Junction, PHS sophomore: I think it's perfect. It's really terrific! You don't have to worry about how you sit and you're not always pulling up your stockings or pulling down your skirt. It's more enjoyable just getting up in the morning and not having to put on a dress or skirt. Now, I really enjoy going to classes.

Doug Rand, 64 Winfield Road, PHS sophomore: I'm not against girls wearing pants to school. I just don't think dress appearance matters at all. I don't think it has anything to do with school work and that's what schools are for. We're not here to look pretty.

Gina Webb, 8 Hamilton Avenue, PHS sophomore: One good thing about it: In winter your legs are a lot warmer. You just about kill yourself getting to school in short skirts. With slacks you can walk around outside and enjoy it. You don't need as big a selection of clothes either. All you need are a couple pair of pants and some shirts. I just bought a pair of pants and I'm going to wear them!

Jean Scott, 232 John Street, PHS senior: I like it. I think it's great. It's more comfortable in blue jeans.

Fred Skipworth, Hollow Road, Skillman, PHS senior: I don't think it's a good idea. It's not proper. They never wore them before so why start now? It really doesn't look good at all. All this time they've worn skirts and dresses.

Mary Johnson, Pretty Brook Road, PHS freshman: I'm deeply in favor of the matter. Pants are in style. It enables girls now to run around and jump and have more freedom. You're not so cramped up, you feel more at home.

Nancy Farley, 188 Parkside Drive, PHS freshman: I think it's good. You're more comfortable and it's not so much trouble. You don't have to worry how you sit. There's not so much pressure on you. You're more free.

Lynne Skillman, 52 Harriet Drive, PHS freshman: I don't like it because I think it will be carried too far. If you are going to wear pants at least wear decent ones. Some do, some don't. By decent, I mean wool pants, not ones with holes in them or with paint dripping down the sides.

Colleen O'Teary, PHS sophomore: I'm for it all the way. You don't have to worry about your dresses being too short. It's more casual, you're more relaxed.

Anne Dennison, 11 Hasset Street, fourth-grader, Princeton Day School: On Friday yes, on other days no. One day a week is enough. Also, I go skating Fridays at PDS and I don't like to have to change. At PDS they let the girls wear slacks on Fridays but only the lower school students.

Alice Britt, 71 Battle Road, fourth-grader, Princeton Day School: I think it is a good scored while causing one of the two players alternately assigned to guard him to foul out blooded with a fine overall performance that made the game the best of his ever-brightening career here. He shot at a 50% clip against both Columbia and Cornell, accumulated 34 points in the two games and remains the league's individual scoring leader with six contests to go. Thomforde, with 13 that included another perfect night (7 for 7) at the foul line, teamed with Petrie to help the Tigers control both boards. With Thomforde's 6.9 frame helping to jam the middle, Princeton largely neutralized the driving layups that the Lions had used effectively in winning two of the three games the teams played last winter.

Let-Dova Aristotel Correll, Unwelecome, had indications of the problems that the Tigers may have in any of their remaining home games came on several occasions during the 67-57 trip triumph the following night over Cornell. Bugged down by the disappointments of a losing season when they had originally been tabbed as one of the top Ivies, the Thicans had just lost their best player for the rest of the season, a 23-point per game scorer, senior Hank South, stayed home with his ankle in a cast.

So cold were the visitors that with nearly six minutes gone, they had only two points. Princeton's lead? Two points.

Throughout the half, the Tigers hit on a slim 37% of their shots and somehow managed a 27-33 advantage. After the intermission, they gradually took control but Correll found it necessary to call time-outs on two or three occasions in an effort to prevent chaos from replacing order.

Again it was Petrie's eye-filling fadeaway jump that gave the Tigers a lift when it was most needed. Thomforde, too, was valuable on offense, hitting well from the corner over the Cornell zone. However, he had more trouble than anticipated with 6-5 Walt Ecdalle, whose short-range shooting found the mark with good consistency. The veteran Cornellian was held scoreless in Princeton Gym a year ago, but connected for 22 here—19 of them while Thomforde was in the game.

As it had been in the second half against Columbia, defensive skill was a major asset for Princeton. The starting team withdrawn when it had a 20-point lead with 2:45 to go, had held the leaders to 22 points over that stretch while committing a game-total of just five fouls.

Yale Can Be Pesky. A Yale quintet which is extremely anxious to turn the tide in a series of close defeats by Princeton over the past few years is waiting for the Tiger quintet at New Haven. The teams will play Friday night, with the Elis due in Jadwin Gym at 8 p.m. Before that, Princeton will head for Providence to play last-place Brown this Saturday night.

A 5-11 sophomore who is averaging 20 points a game, and a 6-9 junior who is good for 18 points on the average are

Yale's principal threats. The Elis are one of the youngest squads in the league, playing without a single senior.

The sophomore pacing the Bulldogs is Jim Morgan, the big man is John Whiston, both with shooting averages around 40%. Captain Thatcher Shell, 6-3, is also in double figures.

The Elis are shooting no better than 37% as a team but play a tenacious style of basketball that has almost invariably made trouble for Princeton. Last year's scores were 69-62 and 74-71 for the Tigers, and if they lapse into inconsistency, such slim margins could, for a change, favor the Blue.

Brown, which finished in 14th place the year ago, and currently is alone in the cellar, has very little in the cellar. The Bruins are without a victory in eight Ivy games and have won only three of 19 contests overall.

Bruce Mager and Bob Purvis, co-captains who are respectively 6-7 and 6-8, are the principle scoring threats. Ever in a last-place team can, however, make trouble for a contender: a month ago, Columbia barely won Providence by a single point in the final minute.

SKATERS FACE YALE Saturday in Baker Rink. The Princeton hockey team will play another of its Ivy League foes Saturday which it has the potential to defeat. The Tigers will face Yale in Baker Rink at 2 o'clock, and a victory would help move them somewhat farther away from last-place Penn.

The Elis, however, have already taken the Tigers' measure — by 5 to 3 at New Haven earlier this month. Princeton held the lead briefly in that one, but could not hang on.

In its last two Ivy outings the Orange and Black sextet trimmed Penn, 4 to 2, but lost to Harvard at Cambridge, 2 to 2. The contest with the Quakers was marked by two goals and almost a dozen penalties handed out were a misconduct and a disqualification — both against the losers.

After a scoreless first period, Princeton moved out to a 4-0 advantage on goals by Dick Johnson, Charlie Harmar, John Kubacki and Johnson again. Defenseman Bill Ramsay assisted on three of them. The Quakers narrowed the margin with two in the final round but came no closer despite pulling their goalie for the final 1:51 of play.

At Cambridge, Princeton was evened by a strong Harvard team at the end of 20 minutes when Kubacki scored twice to match the pair that the Crimson made. Just moved to a forward position from behind the blue line, Kubacki made three goals in his first two games there.

Harvard then beat goalie Middy Tilghman three times in the second period, and the final round was scoreless. (For results of Tuesday's game with Brown, see page 31)

PDS SPLITS PAIR

On Weekend Hockey Trip, The Princeton Day School hockey team made its annual trip to New England last weekend, beating South Kent, 5-2, on Friday and losing to Kent 5-1, on Saturday. Coupled with a 3-2 loss to Hill School last Wednesday, the trip left the Panthers' record at 4-3.

Friday, at 4:30 on its own ice the Blue and White will be out to score, repeat victory over Cranford Hockey Club. PDS blanked the visitors 2-0 in the schools' first meeting last month.

Former members of the PDS hockey team played parts in both games over the weekend. South Kent fielded a first line that included Kil and Josh Raymond, who accounted for both their team's goals, and Keith Hereford at first defense. Billy Frothingham also saw action for South Kent.

PDS's Perry Booth found the range early in the first period to give the winners an early lead, but a goal by Kil Raymond assisted by Hereford tied up matters midway through. Near the end of the period, Sam Rodgers, assisted by Bob O'Conner and Bill Chalverson, put PDS back on top 2-1.

Josh Raymond again brought the losers even in the second period, assisted by his brother, Kil. Jim Rodgers put the winners ahead to stay later in the period, with O'Conner and Peter McCandless getting assists. Deeds Young split the South Kent defense, but was unassisted with just two minutes to go in the final period to put in a fifth goal. Artie Mittnacht got the assist.

Sophomore Tom O'Conner was in the nets all the way for the winners, who were credited with 19 saves.

On Saturday PDS found the shoe on the other foot, as it appeared to keep pace with a speedster in the winners. "We were clearly outmanned in this contest," coach Harry Sulon-Miller reported, "but I was impressed by the way our boys did not give up and kept passing well until the end."

Leading Kent with two goals for the day was Basil Stetson, who was on the PDS first-line last year, but was in no mood to give his former teammates any breaks. Mark Lane also played for the winners. Bill Chalverson got PDS' only goal in the first period to give the Panthers a temporary 1-0 lead.

Pick the right day to test drive a Volkswagen and you'll have the road to yourself.

Back when the weather was better, everybody was inviting you to come in and test drive their new whotovers.

But now that the weather isn't so hot and a test drive is really a test, the invitations have dropped off sharply. Now maybe you can spare a little time to try out the new Volkswagen.

Not right this minute. Wait for a nice lousy day. The next time it's snowing or sloshing or something like that, drive down to your Volkswagen dealer. If you can make it in your car.

Ho! Be happy to take you out and show you how a Volkswagen works when hardly anything else does. How the weight of the motor on the rear wheels makes the VW dig in and go, in the snow or the mud, or even on ice.

As you pass all the stranded cars that passed their test drives in balmy days, he'll tell you about the VW's other cold-weather comforts.

The air-cooled motor. It doesn't freeze over, so it doesn't need anti-freeze or a winter thermostat.

And if you have to leave the car out on a cold wet night, it's got four coats of paint and a sealed bottom to keep it cozy.

You've even got an edge with a VW if the worst happens and you get stuck. What could be easier to push?

This was soon erased by a three goal barrage by Kent, which ended the period leading 3-1. The second period was scoreless with Kent dominating the play. In the third Kent scored twice more as PDS began to tire. Chris Reeve was in the goal for the Panthers.

In the game against Hill, the winners jumped off to a 2-0 advantage, but were never headed. PDS narrowed the gap to 2-1, but Hill got the goal back to lead 3-1 going into the third period. The Panthers made it 3-2 with three minutes to go, but could not manage another in the time remaining.

THIS HOME FOR PAIR
With Bridgewater, Stetson. A team which has suffered through many loss weekends this season finds itself faced with the possibility of winning two this week.

Off its 115 record, the Princeton High School basketball team will be the choice to come out second best against Bridgewater-Raritan here Friday evening at 8 and against Somerset in a 3-45 contest in the PHS gym on Tuesday. But the possibility of a PHS twin killing is that — possible. Bridgewater, which PHS upset last year on the Golden Falcon's home court by two points for one of its three victories, is less likely to become a victim of a PHS upset. In its last outing, Bridgewater topped Franklin 89-91 by two points, 50-57, the latter owning a victory earlier this year over PHS.

If Bridgewater will be thirsting for revenge, PHS will be too, in its match with Stetson. In their first meeting, the Spartans won by two points in a hectic finish. The Little Tigers should have a better than even chance of defeating the Spartans who have lost 10 of 17 this season.

Third Quarter Killed Us. Against Notre Dame (11-5) Friday, PHS played a snid first half against the heavily favored Irish. Then the roof fell in the third quarter. The third quarter killed us," said PHS coach Larry Ivan, commenting on the 21-3 margin rolled up by the Irish in the period.

"They had a lot of baskets underneath which we couldn't seem to cope with," he said. "We just didn't do the job ofensively or defensively off the boards. I was pleased with their performance in the first half, but you can't let down against a team like Notre Dame."

Brooks' Best. Billy Brooks was the only Little Tiger to score more than 7 points, going for 17. "It was by far his best half game," said Ivan. "He

Tigers Win Ivy Battle

In a triangular meet last week, Princeton shut out Yale and Dartmouth by identical scores of 1-0. Bowe Kuhn of the Tigers staged a spectacular upset when he finished first in the race for baseball commissioner. Actually, he had lost even been tailed as a last-minute entry until the barefoot contestants toed the starting line.

Listed as also won were Mike Burke of Yale (and the New York Yankees) and Chuck Preney of Dartmouth (and the San Francisco Giants). An attorney for the National League, the commissioner was a member of the Class of 1948 at Princeton.

looked stronger than he has at any point last year or this year."

The smooth-shooting senior has a 15.2 average and is the ninth leading scorer in Mercer County. "This is his best," added Ivan, who could use a few more players that can pump the ball through the hoop as often as Brooks does.

Fine as Brooks was, he was overshadowed by Notre Dame's standout Walt Kocinski, who is closing in on becoming the all-time scorer in Mercer County. The 6-5 center tossed in 30 points to raise his output to 1,095, seven behind third place Jack Adams on the all time scoring list.

In one unusual aspect of the game, PHS was a perfect seven for seven in the second quarter. Surprisingly, all were layups by a team that has had trouble consistently in the past trying to work the ball in.

Peddle Wins 74-49. Two days earlier, PHS was on the receiving end of a record-setting performance by the all-time leading Peddle School scorer, Mike Parker. Parker hit on 15 shots from the floor and an equal number from the foul line, as he poured in 45 points — 11 more than his previous high. The outburst upped his career total to 1,111 points. The game itself was won by Peddle, 74-49. It was the victory "teeth against four setbacks."

For PHS, Brooks and Larry Madden tied for scoring honors with 15 each, Bill Nelson had six.

There are losers and losers. And although PHS is losing, Ivan is not discouraged. "If you are losing and you look bad losing, that's one thing. We're losing but we are playing capable ball."

The distinction between capable and indifferent is a fair one, as far as PHS is concerned. It's been the team's misfortune that its "capable ball" has not been good enough for the likes of Trenton, Hamilton and Notre Dame.

HUN WINS TWO MORE. Moorestown Here Friday. The Hun School won two more Penn-Jersey basketball games last week, defeating Solebury Saturday in its new gym, 89-66, and Friends Central earlier, 77-63. So what else is new?

The Red and Black will try to make it 12-0 in the league next week at the expense of Moorestown and Pennington School. Moorestown will be at Hun Friday afternoon at 7:15, while Hun will make the short trip to Pennington Wednesday for a 4 p.m. contest.

Super firepower from Nat Williams and Mike Maguire powered Hun to its easy win over Solebury. Williams hit for 22 points, Maguire for 19. Don Silversen and Herm Secker combined for 32 more.

Last Wednesday Hun jumped to a 19-9 lead over Friends Central and widened the spread to 46-28 at the half. Accuracy was the name of the game as coach Dave Lete's title-bound team connected on 21 of 28 shots in the half for a torrid 75 percent performance. High scorers on the team were Williams with 21, Secker with 18 and Silversen and Mike Rossi, 13 each.

PDS VS. RUTGERS PREP

In Basketball Friday. Rutgers Prep will provide the opposition for the Princeton Day School basketball team Friday at 3:00 in the PDS gym. The Panthers look to close one fast year to Rutgers Prep, 76-72. A contest against Jewish Education Center is scheduled for Wednesday.

In action last week, the Blue and White split a pair of games, silencing the Due Ward Seminary, 94-66 on Wednesday, and losing to Delbarton, 78-50 on Saturday.

In Saturday's contest, the Panthers were unable to compete with a balanced Delbarton attack, which saw four men in double figures. The winners moved out to a 21-14 first period lead and were never headed. The halftime margin was 42-22. Craig Page led all scorers with 24 points, Calvin Johnson had 11 and Tom Spain 7.

The Panthers found their going much easier against Divine Word, as Page poured in 37 points. Johnson had 31 and Spain 13. Leading by only 19:16 at the end of the first quarter, PDS increased its margin steadily by the rest of the contest, including a 34-point spurge in the final stanza.

SKATERS LOSE. 5-2 Wisnatchuk Next. A well-ventilated Princeton High School hockey team will travel to Chestnut Hill Wednesday for a 5 p.m. contest with the always-strong Wisnatchuk Hockey Club.

The Little Tigers received an eight-day layoff when Friday's scheduled contest with the Summit Hockey Club was cancelled. PHS coach John Post reported that Summit, which has a heavy schedule, was unable to meet its commitment to play PHS.

As it has most of the season, the team found the going far from easy Friday night on the Princeton Day School rink against the Cranford Hockey Club, dropping a 5-2 decision. White with a 1-6-1 record.

The way Post described the game, it was three separate events. In the first period, his team skated well and was able to contain Cranford 1-0. "In the second period, we completely fell apart and they scored four times."

In the third period, he recalled, "we came back and scored two goals in the first few minutes of play. We were doing well when we ran into a string of five or six consecutive penalties." As a consequence, PHS played the remainder of the game shorthanded and had no chance to close the gap. Chris Gartner and freshman Howie Constable scored for Princeton.

Things should get better for Post, now nearing the end of his first season as coach. He reported that five players on his first two teams are freshmen. "I've got some real haulers in the freshman and sophomore grades," he said.

WRESTLERS SPILT

District Matches Next Week. Following Tuesday's scheduled finale with South Brunswick, the Princeton High School wrestling team will be idle until the district matches, which will be held next Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22, at Hunterdon Central.

Coach Tom Murray will take a full team to the districts, but in view of the caliber of the competition, the largest number PHS can realistically hope will survive to enter the regional matches the following week is no more than three or four. Heading the list will be Princeton's two outstanding wrestlers this year, captain Hank Wilkinson, 128-pounder, and Nick Arcaro, 168 pounds. Other possible Little Tiger winners in the opinion of Murray are Mark Evans, 98 pounds; Chris Mislow, 178 pounds; and Loujahn Rossi, heavyweight.

But as Murray pointed out, you never can tell what will happen in wrestling. Even the best get caught some time, as was true of Wilkinson in Saturday's meet with Hunterdon Central which PHS lost, 35 to 8—a little more lopsided than Murray had hoped.

Going into the Wilkinson match, the score was tied 5-5, Princeton's points coming on a draw between Mark Evans and his opponent in the 98-pound class and Dave MacDonald's decision in the next bout. After Hank got caught in a surprise pin, however, it was all downhill after that. PHS did not win another bout with the exception of Arcaro's decision victory in the 168 pound level.

"I don't know what happened

BOYHOOD AMBITION FULFILLED: "This filled a life-long ambition; I've been wanting to catch one of these ever since I was a little boy." "Nissan Street store owner Merrill Zinder described his catch of a 106-pound, 8-foot, 7-inch sailfish off the coast of Acapulco January 23 as a "one strike, one fish" achievement. He reports catching it in sight of shore with an 18-pound test line, after a 20-minute battle. It was a memorable vacation for the Zinders as his wife, Francine, also caught a sailfish "about the same size."

to Hank," said Murray. "He Bobby Moore and Mislow. Just got caught and it's one of those things. He feels very badly about it."

Murray reported that MacDonald wrestled the best match of the year. "I could just tell when he stepped out on the mat he was going to win. I don't know why but you could see he was just full of confidence."

After the match, Hunterdon's coach Russ Rigel told Murray that he ranked PHS about sixth among the 14 schools his team has faced this year. "He told me he saw a lot of boys on my team whom he would like to have on his own, which made me feel pretty good," said Murray.

Earlier in the week, PHS won its ninth dual meet of the year when it defeated Peddie, 29-17. Scoring pins for the Blue and White were Mark Evans, $111 for Jim Burd. At both the Peddie and Hunterdon matches, PHS took up a collection for Jim Burd, Hopewell Valley High wrestler, who is recovering from a brain injury he received in December.

Murray reported that $35 was collected at the afternoon match with Peddie and $70 Saturday night. It was sent to the Jim Burd Fund, he added, as a joint contribution from the team and fans of Peddie, Hunterdon Central and Princeton High School.

TWO NEW MARKS SET

By Flying Fish. Although the Princeton YMCA boys Flying Fish team lost its final dual meet of the season Saturday to Ridgewood, two of its members set new pool records. Kendall Price won the 11-12, 50-yard freestyle in 27.0-second of a second. In the previous mark of 28.0 seconds, the 50-yard butterfly for boys the same age, Bill Cook's time of 30.0 was 3 of a second faster than the old mark. Other first place winners for Princeton were Greg Lauffer, 100-yard freestyle in 1:12.0-sec-

ART In Princeton

WE LIVE HERE
Artists on View: The Art Chairman of the Present Day Club, Mrs. Joseph E. Bachelder, has arranged a group art show for the months of February and March with the following participating artists: Joanne Augustine, Yvonne Burk, George Ann Gillespie, Ruth Ann MacPherson, Nancy O'Connor, Helga Nergaard, Lucy McVicker, Peter Cook, William Hankinson and Charles McVicker. As often mentioned, the meeting room of the Present Day Club is one of the loveliest and most gracious rooms in Princeton, and pictures not only look well against the paneled walls but, in return, give added warmth and natural charm to the atmosphere. With this end in view, Mrs. Bachelder plans a variety of exhibitions during the year for the enjoyment of members and visitors. In this particular show, the artists are from the Princeton area and have contributed two or three works each.

Joanne Augustine has hung several of her freely painted watercolors. A total and moody "Deserted House" is one and though she paints more colorful and cheerful subjects on occasion, we have a feeling that she has a penchant for the lonely scene. Yvonne Burk's "Still Life" of big bold potted plants was painted in broad, flat planes into a fine, strong design and picture. One expects a facile, breezy type of painting from George Ann Gillespie, and her still life of tulips is really just that, full blown and decorative. However, we prefer her landscape with barns in which there is a windsway sky and foreground.

Ruth MacPherson shows several easily described landscapes and one small watercolor sketch of "Hiroko" which is exceptionally well handled and suggestive of individual character. Nancy O'Connor's still lifes are in the gay, fresh colors she prefers on her palette and applies as zestfully to her canvases.

Interesting contrasts, both in technique and subject matter, come in Helga Nergaard's print, "Yamaki Was Here," "Honey Saturday" by Lucy McVicker is a collage of shimmering reflections as the bicyclist passes by. Her husband Charles McVicker has an interesting description of a snowy scene in the collage "Across the Lawn."

Marie Sturken, with geometric shapes and rather blonde colors, creates the activity she loves on Long Beach land. There are two lively girls by Peter Cook and one of William Hankinson's big, lush still lifes actively designed and generously decorative.

PAA JURIED SHOW
At McCarter Theatre. Many of the aforementioned artists showing at the Present Day Club are again on the roster at McCarter Theatre for the February through March 15th show.

This is a Princeton Art Association Juried Show with fifty-seven paintings, drawings, graphics, etc. by forty artists. It's an unusually big and full show with lots of variety.

The First Award for Oils was given by the Jury to Nancy O'Connor for "Interior," one of her typically high-key canvases in which forms are illustrative under a blend of hot color changes. Second prize in this category went to Rowan Boone's commentary on "Century of Progress," and a third award to Doris Launing's "Two Horses," to Charles McVicker for "Reining Goad," and to a Star Island subject by Marie Sturken.

First Watercolor Award was given Elaine Ellerslein for a very compact, balanced and well "worked-into" still life. Second award was taken by Hiroko Yoshikawa's landscape "Shoreline," which is evident proof of her innate artistic sense combined with a capable and free technique. (Also of all the many still lifes in this show we thought hers the most satisfying). Jan Swearer and Helen Lee received Honorable Mentions in watercolor.

The main Graphics Award was given to Ann Gross for the familiar "Family Tree" that we've seen and studied many times, always with amusement and appreciation. Mae Rockland's Second Graphics Award was for "Summer Landscape," which was appropriate quality and color for the wondrous scene. An Honorable Mention in Graphics went to Marie Sturken's "Fascim."

Unprized but not unnoticed are many other exhibits by the following artists: Joanne Augustine, Margaret Boone, Mary Ann Brockman, Helma Bush, Peter Cook, Jean Eringen, Harriet Esham, Miriam Friend, Helen Gallagher, Janet Glover, Trudy Gluckberg, William Hankinson and Elaine Heinemann.

Also Florence Hillier, Margaret Kennard Johnson, Liz Johnston, Mary S. Johnston, Carol Laughlin, Nan Lee, Helen Manning, Vivian Morse, Helga Nergaard, Harriet Sturken, Helen Schwartz, Ellen Shabender, Jane Sathary and Susan Wainman.

Sports In Princeton

Andy Bolster, Bill Crell and Dan Golden, Princeton also captured three medley relay races, Guy Dorgan, Paul McKenna, Joe Crell and Steve O'Day winning the 3 and 4 and 500 yard relays. Andy O'Hara, David Ely, Bob Hoedemaker and David Buhler taking the 10 and 200 yard relays. Bill Crell, Andy O'Hara, Bill Crell, Dan Golden and Bob Meisel triumphing in the 15 1/2 mile relay.

In an AAU meet held Saturday at the Westfield YNCA pool, a relay team comprised of five members of the Flying Fish finished second in 200 yard relay with a clocking of 2:12.6. Swimmers were Kris Brown, Carol Wagner, John Herzberg and Debbie McClain. Margaret Jilson won a third place medal in the same meet with a time of 1:19.5 in the 112-100 yard breaststroke.

EARLY LEAD VANISHES
As Skaters Lose to Brown. Floating happily along on a 3 to lead with no more than 3:41 of the opening period gone Princeton's hockey team came back to earth midway through the final round against Brown Tuesday as the visitors whipped five goals into the Tiger net. It was a 7-4 final and the Tigers' 15th loss in 18 games this year.

A pace of goals by forward Rich Johnson within a span of 15 seconds launched Princeton toward what seemed to be a welcome upset. Less than a minute later, Jon Taylor followed with a third tally, and the home force really appeared to have something going.

Brown got one back before the round ended, but 53 seconds into the following period, Taylor matched Johnson's effort by scoring another. Even with two rounds gone, it was still 4-2, Princeton.

Penalties were a major factor in the Tigers' downfall. They were a man short on each of the next three goals the Bruins scored, and the shortage of manpower was more than goalie Midge Tilghman could withstand.

A flurry of three goals in less than half a minute midway through the final period turned what had been a bright beginning for Princeton into a one-sided defeat. The Bruins' offense more than made up for occasional defensive shortcomings as the visitors took complete charge in the final 20 minutes.

The contest was marked, as many others have been this year, by some appalling officiating. Bill Riley, one of the striped shirt clan, undoubtedly set a Baker Rink first when he called injury against Brown while it was not one but two men short.

PIES QUINTE BEATEN

By Trenton, 74 to 46. A 35-21 lead it had fashioned by halftime provided the foundation for an easy 74-46 triumph for Trenton High School over the all-beaten Princeton High School basketball team Tuesday. The contest in Trenton was the losers' 17th defeat against a lone victory. The victors had a 64-to-23 margin in rebounds, just one of many reasons why the contest was never close. Their point spread was as high as 38-24 toward the end of the third period before reserves took over, but even then, the gap narrowed only slightly.

PIES SIXTEEN BEATEN

By Wissahickon, 6 to 2. Able to hold a good Wissahickon net even during the first two periods, Princeton High School's hockey team lost Tuesday, 6 to 2, on Princeton Day School ice. Howie Constable and Phil Matthews scored for the losers, who began the third round tied with the visitors at 1-1, but could not hang on. Goalie Mike Tomlinson gave a good account of himself in the face of a steady barrage by the visitors.

YNCA OFFERS SAILING

An introductory course, The fundamentals of small boat sailing will be offered to the Princeton area's men and high school boys in a three-hour course taught by the YNCA's Don Rock.

The course material, including, terminology, equipment, safety and technique, will be presented in three one-hour periods, beginning Monday at 8 p.m. at the YNCA. The last two sessions will meet February 24 and March 3.

NEW COACH ADDED

To Tiger Football Staff. One of the vacancies on Princeton's football coaching staff was filled last week with the appointment of Frank J. Cignetti, for the past three years an assistant at the University of Pittsburgh.

He will join Jake McCandless' staff on what the new head coach calls "the offensive perimeter." As he has at Pittsburgh, Cignetti will work primarily with the offensive backs and ends. A 1960 graduate of Indiana State College, Indiana, Pa., the new staff aide was a Little All-American selection at end in his senior year.

McCandless still needs a line coach to replace the departed Bill Whitton, now head man at Holy Cross, and a backfield coach to handle the duties for which he was responsible before being named to succeed Dick Colman. It is possible, however, that if a coach who can direct single wing-backfield operations cannot immediately be found, McCandless might take charge of that department for the coming year.

BOWLING NOTES

Jerry Perpetua, 643. Jerry Perpetua rolled a 643 series last week to help Princeton Aviators gain first place tie with First Aid in the Nassau League. Both have 18 points, as former leader Grover Lumber fell into a third-place tie with Howe Realty, four points back. In second place is First Aid with 16.

Jerry rolled games of 201-214-228. Teammates Jim Shely and Jim Wheeler had 200 and 206. Jerry's brother, Charles Perpetua Jr., of Howe Realty, claimed the high series single game of 248. Others: Rudy Schmitz, 243; Sal DiGiorgio, 219; Scott, 220; John Baldino, 200; and Andy Drummond, 197.

Ed Lemore's hot streak continues. Aided by a 248 first game, Ed went on to roll 204-182 for a 634 series, while failing for Rocky Hill in the Tri-County Firemen's League a 542 series. Ed had won 243. Stanley Donald fashioned an even 600 on games of 206-210-184.

Bill Richardson had 224, Ray Slovinsky 216, Ed Hugh 211, 204, Al Jerna 212, and Vince Sassman and Stan Tantum, 208. Ralph Kleiber, Paul Terecky, Frank Stofko and Elmer Wilson were between 203 and 200.

Four teams are tied for second place with 20 points each, four behind league-leading No. 1. They are Rocky Hill, No. 176, Kingston and K.F.D. Lawrenceville is third with 18.

Bill Bathie was high in the Mixed League with 200. Lorraine Adams and Myrtle Smith.

MAMEL GAINS GROUND

In Bowling League. Scoring eight points last week, Mamel jumped from third to second place in the Princeton Women's Bowling League. Mamel now trails Cranbury Bank, 20-24.

Turney Motors slipped to third place with 22 points, followed by Rocky & Son's (19) and Russa's Cafe (16). Next week is post-con night, and Cranbury's lead will be in jeopardy if Mamel continues its hot streak.

A new high team game of 901 was fashioned last week by Russo's, Mettler "A" rolled the high team series of 2333.

Marlyna Silvester with a 221 game, Betty Frazee, 184, and Sara Rose, 175, were instrumental in powering Russo's to the new high team score. Other high games were those of Marge Bloom of Cranbury Bank, 205; Alice Potts of Mamel, 184, and Jean Foster of Rocky & Son's, 175.

Ann Turner (Turney) and Mary Brady (Mettler A) and Elvyn Masterton (Mamel) all had 175s. Helen Love and Evelyn Sailey each rolled 175. Betty Frazee converted the 5-10 split.

MUSIC In Princeton

CONCERT SCHEDULED
By Choir And Orchestra. For the first time in its five-year history, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra will join the Princeton High School Choir in a concert to be presented on April 1, in the John Witherspoon Auditorium.

The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Nicholas Harsanyi, is now on tour in the mid-west. It has scheduled concerts in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Michigan.

William Trego directs the High School Choir, which recently returned from a recital in Washington, D.C. The group was the only high school choir to perform at the American Choral Directors' conference. All proceeds from the April concert will go toward the Princeton High School Scholarship Fund.

PATIENCE!

G. & S. Fans Alerted. "Patience," the Gilbert and Sullivan opera that satirizes the flower people of the 1880s, will be given by Westminster Choir College on Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22 in the John Witherspoon School auditorium.

Martha Sterner will play the title role. Ray Pool will be Bathsheba, the Flechely Pool and Phil Rader will be Grosvenor the Idyllic Poet.

William Tice and George Gray will be the Colonel and Major of the Dragoon Guards. Other members of the cast are Mary Dempsey, Lucie Fornwall, Bonnie Bradley, Susan Page, Ed Reich and Peter Carole.

Munroe Wade, of the Westminster faculty, will be stage director and ten students: David Agler and David Smith will be in charge of music direction.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Westminster Choir College, 921-7100.

RECITAL PLANNED

By Princeton Music Group. The Princeton University Friends of Music will sponsor a piano recital by junior Stuart Brick at 8:30 p.m., Friday, in Room 101 of the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies.

Mr. Brick's program will include three Chopin études:

Opus 10, No. 4, in C Sharp Major; Opus 25, No. 9 in G Flat Major; and Opus 25, No. 10 in B Minor. The fourth selection is the Liszt Sonata in B Minor.

The Princeton philosophy major has studied piano with Maynard Filar and Leonard Shore. His current instructor is Sacha Gorodinski. The concert is free and open to the public.

SACRED MUSIC PLANNED

By Seminary Choir: The Princeton Theological Seminary Choir, directed by Dr. David Hugh Jones, will present a program of sacred music Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton.

The 34-year old group has sung in more than 2,000 churches since its inception, and tours extensively each summer through North, South and Central America.

The musical portion of Sunday's program will include choral repertoire ranging from Palestrina, Lotti, Bach, Handel, Haydn and Mendelssohn to contemporary composers and folk writers.

BRASS GROUP TO PLAY

For Musical Americans. An eight piece brass ensemble will accompany a program of Gabrieli's "Jubilant Deo" and "In Ecclesia." Sunday at 5 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. Mrs. Barbara Connelly Lewis will direct the program, which will include soloists June Tipton, soprano, and Terry Ferner, tenor.

Any persons interested in music are invited to participate in the informal reading. They may contact Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb, 921-7214, to make arrangements for music and refreshments. Anyone wishing to join the society may do so at the door.

FOLK PROGRAM PLANNED

At Music Society Meeting. Folk singers Chuck and Nan Perdue will present a musical program at a meeting of the Princeton Folk Music Society at 8:30 p.m., Friday, in the lounge of St. Andrew's Church.

While serving as president of the Folklore Society of Greater Washington, Mr. Perdue has appeared with his wife at folk festivals and clubs throughout the country. Mr. Perdue is now studying folklore and folk life at the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania. Admission is $5. Coffee will be served following the program.

but at Country Antiques you can find...

Benjamin Franklin glasses with folding ear pieces; a breeder in a microscope humped leather case; an abacus; a tiny double heart cookie cutter; mother of pearl and gold pens, actually. Fascinating box of this and that from one treasure chest.

A George Washington letter, not accurately or positively identified as genuine - mid. Reddish! appreciated this at $100 over 10 years ago - our price is $75; the life of Sam Houston, illustrated, 1935; a cherry secretary-desk and a bachelor's chest, also in cherry; capes and velvet wraps.

It does things
shouldn't do.

Coming at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

SAAB
You can drive it like a big car.

ON BEING RADICAL

I know people who think I am as radical as contemporary design appears to those interested in the traditional. On the other hand, some of my young radical friends look on me as an arch-conservative. This was brought home sharply to me in my reading Friday night of "New American Writing #5" (which I recommend to all interested in contemporary America), and in particular an article by Eric Bentley entitled "The Unilateral University."

The last paragraph is advice I would give some of my young friends. I quote: "Be more opportu-nistic, at least in this respect - grab the education that you can get and that you or your parents are paying for. Understand that this education will have the limitations which, given the history of Western civilization up to this point, it must have.
 But seek out the exceptions and the deviants. Seek out sheer merit whatever the circumstantial ideology. Seek out fine men of learning, fine critics of life: they exist. Explode in revolt when you have to, but not when you don't have to. If you feel you must be a full-time reformer or revolutionary as of now, then go out - out from the university - and be one. The university is for people who don't yet feel quite ready for this mission or any other. It's for people who feel the university will help make them ready. If you conclude that it can help make you ready, then enroll. After that, by all means exploit the university for your own purposes - but in the way in which it can successfully be exploited and your interests will be served. Concede that the unilateral university can still be of use; discover exactly what use it can be to you; then use it."

If the foregoing is puzzling or interesting to you read the whole article. Meanwhile for the best in contemporary design, see

YOUR OWN BIT OF COUNTRY

Yet only a block from the

New York bus!

Our new listing, an owner designed, air-conditioned redwood ranch on almost 4 acres offers some lucky purchaser all the privacy in the world - and all the conveniences of one floor living.

The living and dining rooms both look out through thermopane windows to a pool and pretty plantings, and are separated by a raised hearth fireplace opening to both. Three good bedrooms and two tiled baths, an eating kitchen and screened porch. Downstairs, there is a finished playground big enough for pine young and old. Upboard, a huge study or fourth bedroom, and the usual laundry and linen closet.

Fine Princeton Township location, easy walking distance of Littlebrook School, just 15 minutes young.

HEALTH HINTS

By George H. Hopkins, D.C.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS ARE INSEPARABLE

A degree of happiness is attainable by everybody who seeks it. The rich or poor, the important and unimportant, can enjoy life — even the lay can enjoy their laziness. But none of them can be happy without the principal ingredient — good health. All hopes of ambition, in any field, depend on good health. Without it, life is nothing. Yet most people are less concerned about health than about their car and take less care of their bodies.

One of the most important factors in maintaining good health is an unobstructed nervous system, for this is the origin of our well-being. The central nerves are encased in the spine. They branch out between the vertebrae to all parts of the body. If the flow of nerve energy is cut off en route to its designated part of the body, then the derivative part will function abnormally. Headaches, eyestrain, upset stomach, and a multitude of disturbances ensue. A person then becomes ill, and any form of happiness is greatly decreased, for it can be enjoyed but little.

A thorough check-up of the nervous system is as important as happiness itself since it will contribute toward that end. The development of strong muscles, nerves, correct posture, and relaxation are contributing factors. But the necessity of a check-up on the integrity of the nervous system, by your doctor or chiropractor, is both wise and productive. The normal flow of nerve force increases normal resistance to disease and creates buoyant health which ensures a greater degree of happiness.

CHARMING

... this tiny lace displays some of the most beautiful villas in Princeton. Most of the homes are small, and so are the families — young adults with one or two children, or retired people lured here by the beauty of the street. This small house has living room, dining room, kitchen and a breakfast room and a brand-new bathroom with a screened deck outside where one can loiter over a late breakfast and listen to the brook babbling in the back yard. Downstairs, a huge master bedroom, with windows and a door leading to the garden, which makes this a good-sized house when it comes to entertaining. New refrigerator-freezer and combination washer-dryer included. (*) $34,500

FIVE BEDROOMS ... on a knoll in Montgomery Township, with a pleasant view of woods and farms, yet only 8 minutes from Princeton, the 3-year-old Colonial has large living and dining rooms, paneled family room, a beautiful kitchen with plenty of eating space, Downstairs, a powder room, upstairs, 2 big tiled bathrooms. Central air-conditioning. Large basement for playroom and shop. An acre of land. Indoors, in impeccable condition. Freshly painted outside. $47,500

FOUR BEDROOMS ... in a large 2-story home only three years old. On a quiet country road in an area where you'll often see deer and pheasant, yet only a short walk to N. Y. Express bus. Living room with fireplace, separate dining room, family room, powder room, modern kitchen. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Lot 125 by 286. This is a very pleasant home, which the owners (recently transferred) were very unhappy to leave. $55,000

BIG FAMILY? ... here is a large 5-bedroom house on a spacious lot in a fine neighborhood with plenty of playmates for your children. Foyer, large living room, dining room, great kitchen, and powder room on first floor. Paneled family room with fireplace and another powder room. Big game room in the basement. Upstairs: 5 bedrooms, 2 baths, large closets. Wall-to-wall carpeting on first floor and stairs. (*) $64,500

FACING THE LAKE ... Right on Lake Carnegie, where you can watch the crews race from your own deck outside the living room, here is a great house for a large family. 5 bedrooms, 2 full baths, 2 powder rooms. Large study. Separate dining room with fireplace. Big kitchen. Huge terrace overlooking the Lake. Washer, dryer, refrigerator, disposal & wall-to-wall carpet included. The site is beautifully landscaped and supplemented with its variety of great old trees. Owner has moved to California and property is available at once. (*) $79,500

ENTERTAIN LIKE A STAR ... this fine brick residence, with a foyer floored in white marble and its large, stately dining room and its spacious living room with sliding glass doors leading to the terrace, was designed for entertaining. So was the big swimming pool, gleaming like a jewel in the woods on a hillside overlooking the Stone Brook. 7 bedrooms, 4½ bathrooms as soon as you enter the front door. Upstairs, 5 bedrooms, 3 baths. Central air-conditioning. Two acres of land in one of the Western Section's best locations $110,000

STUART HILL ... Fabulous 2-acre building sits in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in castles among lofty trees. All utilities installed. $28,000 up.

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
